How to connect with a professional using HoosierConnections:

Log into MyJobs on the Career Development Center’s website. If you have already completed your account information, you should see the HoosierConnections tab in the left hand column. (Contact your career advisor, if you do not see that option.)

Click on the HoosierConnections tab to see a list of professionals who are willing to meet with you.

Click on an individual’s name to learn more about that person. You should also click on the blue icon to see their LinkedIn page. You will want to know as much information as possible about the person before you make your selection.
After you’ve reviewed the list carefully and made your selection, click the “Interested” tab at the bottom of the professional’s account page.
A box will appear where you can write a message to this person explaining that you are an Indiana University student who would like to learn more about the career field and their own personal career journey, how they got to where they are and what they do on a daily basis. Then click send. This person will email you back at your IU email to set up a meeting time that works for you. It’s best to meet at their place of employment for an informational interview, that’s usually a good first step. However if you both agree to meet at another location and just talk, that’s going to be up to you. To learn more about informational interviews, HoosierConnections, or anything else about this process, make an appointment with your career advisor or come to drop-in advising.
